

JPC Foundation

JLMI Preserving Communities (JPC) Foundation
www.jpcf.org

December 13, 2007
“The Biggest Little Parade in the world”
Parkstown, NC

The JPC Foundation (JPCF) is the outcome of the desire of a core of citizens that were born in several southern rural communities and are very disheartened by the state the communities have become. The purpose of the JPCF is to save old rural communities that are being swallowed by industry and new subdivisions. As a result, the community has banded together and recreated the “biggest little parade in the world.” JPCF is a major sponsor of the parade.

Pictured above: JPCF directors, JLMI employees, friends, and Respect a Senior Participants enjoying the recent festivities of the “biggest little parade in the world.”